Message from the Chairman

The Board of Directors and staff of the North Houston Greenspoint Chamber are proud to present this 2005 Business Directory. A new directory means we are full tilt into a new business year. The Chamber is off and running with programs galore, even at this writing. Your committees are in place and are working in your best interest.

The Greater North Houston business community continues to be a major area of activity for the nation, as well as for Harris County. With the Bush Intercontinental Airport within minutes, major corporations at our front porch, and folks like you and me in the neighborhood, the future looks bright indeed!

This Business Directory is for your convenience to be used as your "yellow pages for North Houston". We urge you to enjoy it and use it to do business with Chamber members first. If there happens to be a type of service or product that you need and do not find in this book, please let us know and we will do our best to recruit a business to be a member of our Chamber to meet that need.

Our Chamber is full of opportunities for your involvement and we hope you will take advantage of them. We should have a committee that you will feel comfortable with and have an interest in joining. Also, we have networking events that are a lot of fun and just might present a business lead.

Again, keep this directory handy and use it regularly. I hope it serves you as well as it has me for the past several years.

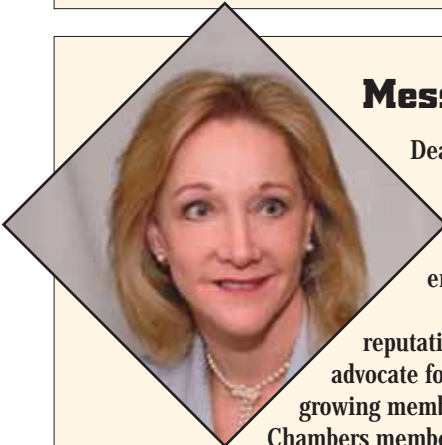

With Warmest Regards,

Ray Shotwell

Chair of the Board - North Houston Greenspoint Chamber of Commerce

“North Houston is THE place to do business. Our airport, Bush IAH, is one of the busiest in the nation for domestic and international travel. Our workforce is supported by one of the nation’s largest community college systems, North Harris Montgomery Community College District. Our award- winning school districts encourage business with incentives like the Freeport Exemption, and there is much raw land available for development. Most importantly, the area has good, community-minded people and organizations that build partnerships resulting in a successful business, community and city.”

Aldine Improvement District

The Texas Legislature created the Aldine Improvement District in June 2001 to enhance the physical, social, and economic well-being of Aldine. Over the past three years, the district has initiated a number of programs to accomplish that mission.

Facing one of the most pressing and expansive issues in Aldine, the district sought and won a Texas Water Development Board Grant to perform a $445,000 water/sewer study and master plan to provide sanitary water and sewer service to more than 11,000 area households and businesses. Substantially complete in spring 2004, the master plan now guides the board in implementation and will facilitate buy-in from potential partners such as the city of Houston, local MUDs, and Harris County.

In addition, the district launched a major Clean Up campaign with a multi-faceted media push and various community activities. The campaign was designed to educate residents and business owners and encourage community pride. Through ongoing efforts, this team is reducing litter, graffiti, abandoned vehicles, hazardous materials, heavy trash, and illegal dumping throughout Aldine.

The Aldine Improvement District's Environmental and Urban Design committee is currently working with Texas Parks and Wildlife to facilitate construction of a three-mile hike and bike trail near Keith Weiss Park, which will enhance mobility, recreational opportunities, and safety. Ongoing efforts are also under way with the Harris County Flood Control District to mitigate area flooding and increase recreational facilities in buy-out properties and retention areas.

Attracting new business to Aldine is yet another aspect of the district's mission. Taking action to draw new companies to the area, the board of directors passed a resolution supporting a local Freeport Tax Exemption, a critical designation for fabricators and manufacturers seeking to set up shop near Bush Intercontinental Airport.

Finally, the district has committed itself to improving area safety and security. One of its first projects was to initiate the renovation of a law-enforcement storefront complete with district offices and community meeting rooms. Substantially complete in October 2003, this facility now offers the space and technical capacity to double the number of officers working in the Aldine area.

After less than four years of operation, the Aldine Improvement District has taken direct action to improve Aldine's water/sewer infrastructure, transportation, environment, public safety, and economy. Through partnerships and planning, the community may expect more from this body as it seeks to make Aldine a safer, cleaner, and more prosperous place to live, work, and play.

Greater Greenspoint District

Situated at the crossroads of two of Houston's major arteries, Interstate 45 and the Sam Houston Parkway, Greenspoint offers convenient access to the entire city. With Bush Intercontinental airport just minutes away, the area also offers access to the world. While a prime location has always been Greenspoint's main selling point, the area has emerged with a new set of dynamics that has Greenspoint poised for continued growth for the foreseeable future.

"Our continued vision for Greenspoint is of a well-planned, high quality community, integrating regional, metropolitan, national and international commercial development with a stable, desirable, residential neighborhood," said Jack Drake, president of the Greater Greenspoint District.

Created by the Texas Legislature in 1991, the District provides services related to urban design, public safety, recreational development, transportation planning, public relations and economic development. District services go above and beyond those routinely provided by local government.

Public art, attractive landscaping, graffiti abatement, special lighting, distinctive signage and more frequent clean-ups and mowings are just a few of the benefits enjoyed by Greenspoint property owners.

Examples of the District's most recognizable contributions to the community are the recent completion of the heavily-landscaped interchange at the Sam Houston Parkway and Interstate 45, and the creation of the Public Safety Center at Greenspoint Mall. Another valuable contribution came with the District's effort to form another organization that also protects the area's interests. The Greater Greenspoint Redevelopment Authority (GGRA), which provides financial incentives for developers who include public amenities in their projects, is now another powerful force in this community.

"Greenspoint is a thriving activity center with tremendous future growth potential. Strong community partners, a well-established management district and the availability of undeveloped land and incentives made possible through the GGRA make this area a prime location for meaningful development," said Sally Bradford, executive director of the GGRA.

The GGRA, which oversees the area's Tax Increment Reinvestment Zone, is a partnership between the City of Houston, Harris County, North Harris Montgomery Community College District, and Spring and Aldine ISDs. The GGRA reimburses qualified developers who include public works such as streets, sidewalks, parks, landscaping or other infrastructure improvements in their projects.

This financing tool has encouraged exciting development in the community. Multifamily housing was transformed with the redevelopment of more than 5,000 apartments, the largest project of its kind in the nation. This led to an opportunity for recreational development with the construction of two parks and plans for many more. Greenspoint's Thomas R. Wussow and CityView Parks, both formerly abandoned apartment complexes, now offer the area's families, employees and visitors a great location for recreation and public or private events. Other projects recently announced by the GGRA include the construction of a four-lane bridge on Benmar Drive that will open the street to West Hardy, a revitalization project on Airline Drive between West Road and Aldine Bender, and a partnership with the Greater Greenspoint District to build a 2.5 mile trail system along Greens Bayou.

The District and GGRA look for partnership opportunities that bring lasting community impact because partnership is the key to Greenspoint's success. The District facilitates good relationships by offering a variety of resources to help organizations work together to be active partners in shaping the area's development and its future. In addition to providing enhanced services for the area, the District assists new and potential property owners with:

- Slide presentations and demographic data on the Greenspoint area
- Public safety analysis of property and recommendations on crime prevention techniques
- Guidance on landscape design and maintenance
- Guidance on transportation alternatives available to area residents and employees
- A variety of free publications geared toward employees, residents and visitors

North Houston Association

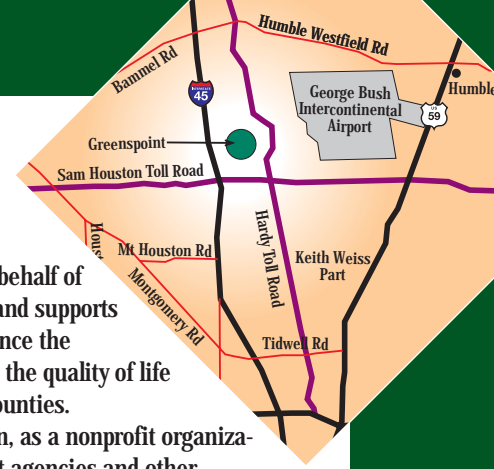

The North Houston Association on behalf of its members identifies, advocates, and supports projects and initiatives, which advance the business environment and improve the quality of life in North Harris and Montgomery counties.

Houston's
Houston real estate has been positively impacted by the completion of the Hilton Americas Hotel and George R. Brown Convention Center expansion, Reliant Stadium, Toyota Center and the light rail system. These items enhanced our image as an international city that has the wherewithal and the amenities to support major events. So in 2004 Houston served as host to the Super Bowl and the Major League Baseball All Star Game. The selection of Houston as the Super Bowl location gave the Greenspoint economy a direct boost. The Wyndham Greenspoint Hotel was selected by the NFL as one of the host hotels for the Super Bowl team, the Carolina Panthers. This resulted in a win-win scenario for Greenspoint's hospitality sector. It is estimated that the Super Bowl generated $1,000,000 in publicity for the Greenspoint area. This media coverage introduced Greenspoint to an audience of over 10,000,000 people.

The North Houston Greenspoint area continues to be a thriving business community with more than 1,000 businesses and 50,000 employees. Greenspoint's location at the intersection of I-45 and Beltway 8 allows for easy access to Bush Intercontinental Airport, hotels, retail, housing, bus service, and fiber optics. It is located close to some of Houston's finest master planned communities such as Kingwood and The Woodlands.

More than 86,000 people call the Greenspoint area home. Single-family developers such as KB Homes, and others, recently added 700 new homes in three new area subdivisions. Additionally, Dickson Partners has developed the master-planned community Remington Ranch. This six-year project, which began Summer 2004, will add 2,100 new homes to North Houston.

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) recently completed the last of a series of major infrastructure improvements, the $35 million project that provides direct connections between Interstate 45 and the North Sam Houston Parkway and the Hardy Toll Road. In addition to improving traffic flow, the interchanges feature $600,000 of landscaping, a coordinated effort between the Greater Greenspoint District and TxDOT.

The 41,000,000 square feet of industrial market in the North Houston Greenspoint area ended 2003 with a vacancy rate of 11%. Much of the leasing activity has continued to be sustained by Bush Intercontinental Airport's aggressive $2.8 billion expansion which supported growth in domestic air freight traffic of 26% over 2002 levels.

As the Houston economy begins to regain strength, job growth continued to show improvement through 2004. Advancing job growth is always a positive indication that the need for office space will improve. The recent growth was assisted in part by existing corporations in the area such as Kerr-McGee Oil & Gas Corporation, which opened its newly constructed 100,000 square foot office building to house approximately 300 employees; Newfield Exploration which expanded 20,000 square feet at its location; and Exxon/Mobil Corporation, which relocated approximately 400 jobs from its New Orleans offices to its Greenspoint area office locations. During 2004, Greenspoint experienced the leasing of 97,000 additional square feet, which will bring 324 more employees to the area. All this leasing involves either existing companies expanding their operations or companies located in the Houston area that sought to relocate to the North Houston Greenspoint area. This is a strong testament to the prime location and the financial incentives that draw companies to the Greenspoint area.

“Education is the foundation upon which our community and its economy are built. We are indeed fortunate to have some of the finest school districts and colleges to provide that role in North Houston. An added bonus is the great way in which these institutions work together to provide a seamless and effective path for lifelong learning.”

Aldine ISD

Aldine ISD is the 11th largest school district in Texas and has earned a Recognized rating for academic achievement under the state's accountability rating system for seven consecutive years beginning in 1996. For two of those years, AISD was the largest Recognized school district in Texas.

AISD's vision is to produce the nation's best. In Aldine, seven elected board members embody the vision and have been recognized as an "Outstanding School Board of Texas for 1998" by the Texas Association of School Administrators, and was one of only 24 school districts nationwide to receive a 1999 Magna Award from the American School Board Journal magazine. AISD has also been included on a list of model school districts by the University of Texas at Austin's Dana Center, Texas A&M University, and the Washington-based Learning First Alliance.

AISD serves a diverse population of approximately 56,300 students who reside in neighborhoods spread over 111 square miles. The curriculum is structured to help students become critical thinkers, problem solvers, responsible citizens, innovative leaders, dependable employees and caring parents. The district has traditional campuses, Magnet schools, and alternative campuses that employ innovative approaches to meet the needs of students who live in a fast-paced, dynamic world. Special campuses for early-childhood/pre-kindergarten students, ninth-graders, and students who cannot attend school during the school day - Night High School - are just a few examples of the many programs that set AISD apart.

Houston Independent School District

Founded in 1923, the Houston Independent School District is the largest public school system in Texas and the seventh-largest in the United States. HISD encompasses 301 square miles within the greater Houston metropolitan area, educating approximately 210,000 students. The district operates more than 300 campuses and educational programs and serves a diverse student population that is 57 percent Hispanic; 31 percent African-American; 9 percent White; and 3 percent Asian/Pacific Islander. Eighty percent of HISD students participate in free or reduced-price meal programs, and HISD serves more than 60,000 students whose first language is not English and who represent at least 90 foreign countries. With approximately 30,000 full- and part-time professional and support personnel, HISD is one of the largest employers in the Houston metropolitan area.

HISD has a general operating budget of slightly more than $1.3 billion. Exceptional fiscal management has enabled HISD to maintain the lowest property tax rate among the 20 school districts in Harris County. HISD currently has the fourth-lowest property tax rate among the 10 largest school districts in Texas.

HISD exists to strengthen the social and economic foundation of Houston by giving its youth the highest-quality education available anywhere through an intensive core curriculum and specialized, challenging instructional and career programs. HISD has earned a national reputation for innovation, efficiency, and effectiveness. In 2002, HISD was named America's top-performing urban school district and the winner of the inaugural Broad Prize for Urban Education, awarded annually for outstanding overall improvement while narrowing the achievement gap between economic and ethnic groups.

HISD is committed to providing Houston's children with safe, comfortable, attractive, and inspiring schools through its district wide facilities-to-standard program to repair, renovate, and build schools with funds from bond issues. The Rebuild HISD bond program will build 20 new schools, renovate 30 campuses with critical repair needs, and renovate and build additions for 10 overcrowded elementary schools. The initiative will also improve gymnasiums and playgrounds and create 10 or more early-childhood education centers to place children on the road to academic success as early as possible.

North Forest ISD

The North Forest Independent School District is situated at the northeast section of Harris County, and the school system covers some 33 square miles. Ranked among the top 100 school districts in size in the state, NFISD serves approximately 11,000 students in grades pre-kindergarten through twelve.

NFISD is fully accredited by the Texas Education Agency; it is also accredited by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges, a regional accreditation agency. A predominately African-American school system, the ethnic makeup of the district is 77 percent African American; 22 percent Hispanic; .6 percent White; and .8 percent Asian.

North Forest ISD operates seven elementary schools, two intermediate schools, three middle schools, two high schools and one career and technology school. The Learning Academy, a school within a school, located on the B. C. Elmore Middle School campus, houses students who are unable to function well in the traditional educational setting. Other facilities in the district are the transportation; food services and maintenance center; the district police complex; and administrative offices, currently located at 7201 Langley Road. The Jones-Cowart Stadium, located on the M. B. Smiley High School campus, is used for district athletic events as well as other activities. Four of the district's schools are new campuses, having been financed by a bond election approved by voters in 1997. The school board recently approved the construction of a new R. E. Kirby Middle School and a new administration building to replace the one destroyed by Tropical Storm Allison.

With nearly 1,500 employees on the payroll, the district is the largest employer in the community. NFISD employs about 600 teachers and about 840 other staff members including secretaries and paraprofessionals.

Spring Independent School District

Children are always the focus at Spring ISD, and the District's resources are directed toward priorities that will help ensure a quality education for each of its more than 26,800 students. Those priorities have been established in a series of Five-Year-Education Plans that serve as the blueprint of the District's goals. In striving to achieve these educational goals, direction is provided by the elected, seven-member Board of Trustees.

Spring ISD's principal goal is the development of students who excel academically; reason and solve problems rationally; and act responsibly by displaying good character and citizenship. Pursuit of that goal has resulted in SISD earning the recognized rating from the Texas Education Agency since 1999.

SISD is a diverse and growing district located 20 miles north of downtown Houston in an urban area of Harris County that spans 57 square miles and is home to over 130,000 residents. The District's current ethnic breakdown is 0.2 percent Native American; 5.8 percent Asian/Pacific Islander; 31.6 percent African American; 31.2 percent Hispanic and 31.3 percent White.

One of the ways the District meets those needs is by providing adequate campuses for teaching and learning. Currently, those campuses include two high schools classified as 5A for extracurricular activity purposes, a ninth-grade center, five sixth- through eighth-grade middle schools, one pre-kindergarten through second-grade primary school, one third-through fifth-grade intermediate school, 14 pre-kindergarten/ kindergarten through fifth-grade elementary schools, and a state and nationally recognized campus serving disabled, vocational, gifted/talented, and alternative education students.

Another goal of the District is to provide a safe, secure and respectful environment where staff and students can focus their attention on teaching and learning. Character education is promoted district wide as a means for promoting good behavior and citizenship. In addition, the SISD Police Department supports this goal through advanced technology, educational programs, and a physical presence at District schools, activities and events.

DeVry University

DeVry University's Houston campus opened in November 2003, offering bachelor's and associate degree programs in technology, business and management. Accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association (NCA), programs at DeVry are career-oriented, with a balance of general education and specialized coursework to help them gain the knowledge, skills, and credentials needed to meet the challenges of a global economy.

DeVry's career-oriented curriculum enables students to develop skills that directly apply to the workplace in courses that are regularly updated with input from business and industry leaders.

Remington College

At every Remington College campus, there is an emphasis on teaching the specific job-related skills that employers look for when they make hiring decisions. Students at Remington College learn not just by reading textbooks and other study materials, and not just by listening to instructors lecture, but also by “doing.” This combination of traditional teaching methods and practical classroom experience provides an opportunity for students to gain a much more personal understanding of their area of study because its not just theory — it is also a real-world application. This fundamental philosophy toward learning can be summarized by Remington College's motto: “Real Skills for the Real World.”

As a practical matter, Remington College seeks to accomplish this goal by striving to graduate a high percentage of students who enter their career training programs, and help graduating students achieve relevant entry-level employment in their chosen field at the highest available starting salary.

Remington Colleges' programs are designed to be academically sound and relevant to the needs of both students and employers. Programs of study are developed only in areas that are expected to have high demand for skilled workers in the coming years.

All Remington College campuses are nationally accredited and the faculties meet or exceed the standards set by the various Federal and State regulators who are responsible for monitoring the performance of providers of private education.

Roots.

FMC Technologies

Nothing grows without strong roots. That includes companies. And that explains a lot about FMC Technologies.

FMC Technologies has grown to be the premier mission-critical solutions provider for the energy, food and air transportation industries, enabled partly by our deep roots in Houston. In fact, the first energy business acquired by FMC Technologies was founded in the Bayou City in 1927.

Over our 100-year history, our strong Houston roots have sustained steady growth. Today, Houston-headquartered FMC Energy Systems employs 1,200 people locally and contributes millions to the Houston economy through the purchase of goods and services, the payment of taxes and charitable contributions. We continue to bolster Houston's reputation as the hub of oil and gas technology developments, with advances such as the world's first high-pressure/high-temperature subsea system rated to water depths of 10,000 feet. This industry-leading subsea solution debuted at the 2003 Offshore Technology Conference in Houston.

With accomplishments like this, it's not surprising that every now and then we pause to look back and celebrate our roots - those fundamentals that have led to our current success. After all, if history really does repeat itself, then FMC Technologies has a bright future.

FMC Technologies: We're growing our future by building on the past.

“North Houston Greenspoint truly represents ‘Houston’s Gateway to Global Growth.’ Greenspoint has convenient access via an outstanding highway and toll road transportation system to two global gateways - Bush Intercontinental Airport and the Port of Houston. These gateway opportunities to access world markets offer unlimited international trade opportunities. Our investment in superior transportation systems brings world trade to our front door.”

International Trade

The Houston Airport System is the fourth largest airport system in the United States and the sixth largest in the world.

Houston's geographic position, midway between the east and west coasts makes it accessible and a natural gateway to Latin America.

George Bush Intercontinental Airport (IAH) is the eighth largest airport in the U.S. in terms of total passenger traffic and eighth for international passengers. During the past five years, Houston's international passenger count has grown 10.9 percent (1990-2000) & 47.25 percent (1997-2002) and foreign airfreight shipments through IAH have increased by more than 10.16 percent.

Bush Intercontinental Airport provides direct air service to 101 domestic destinations and 48 international destinations in 22 countries. Houston is the 12th largest U.S. gateway for nonstop flights to Europe with over 50 per week. The city is also one of only 15 in the U.S. with daily nonstop service to the Pacific Rim. Houston serves more destinations in Mexico than any other airport in the U.S. IAH is also the 2nd largest gateway to Central America and the 3rd largest to South America.

Bush Intercontinental Airport is a major air cargo distribution center with nearly 600 freight forwarders and logistics companies in the Houston area. While Houston is a primary cargo gateway to Mexico; Europe remains the largest cargo client with 73 percent of the international cargo in and out of Houston connected to Europe.

According to the International Air Transport Association (IATA), IAH is the 9th largest international air cargo gateway to the U.S. Hence the growing demand for air cargo services in Houston and Southeast Texas was the driving force behind the development of the new high-speed air cargo distribution complex. Situated on 120 acres, the complex is located on the northeast side of Bush Intercontinental Airport. The first phase of the development includes ramp space for accommodating as many as 20 wide body aircraft, three new state-of-the-art, and large capacity warehouses and provides more than 550,000 square feet of storage space for fast-pace air cargo processing and distribution.

In addition, the Houston Airport System has cooperation agreements with airports in Africa, China and Guatemala that support its mission to provide safe and efficient airports and promote economic development.

Transportation

Providing unsurpassed air service to more than 4 million area residents, the Houston Airport System maintains and operates three airports: George Bush Intercontinental Airport (IAH); William P. Hobby Airport (HOU) and Ellington Field (EFD). Each facility fills a unique niche, offering customers a diverse range of aviation services.

Bush Intercontinental Airport (IAH) was built to meet today's needs and to accept tomorrow's challenge. The airport's physical size and growth contribute immeasurably to the community's economic growth and provide travelers with one of the finest and most convenient, modern facilities in the world. IAH is located 22 miles north of downtown Houston. There are two main entrances to the airport terminal complex via John F. Kennedy Boulevard from the Sam Houston Tollway (Beltway 8) and Will Clayton Parkway from U.S. Highway 59.

Terminal D, the Mickey Leland International Airlines Building, designed for the comfort and convenience of the international traveler, handles all international arrivals at the airport. Federal Inspection Service facilities in this building process arriving international passengers in a fast and efficient manner. Air Canada operates from Terminal A. Passengers can negotiate the currencies of 74 foreign countries between the hours of 6:30 a.m. and 9 p.m.

The Marriott Airport Hotel is located in the center of the passenger terminal complex with 566 rooms available for guests. Passengers are linked directly from airside terminals to the hotel.

A convenient underground train connects the four passenger terminals and the Marriott hotel; an above ground tram links Terminals B and C. The tram also connects to the new Federal Inspection Services Building, Terminal E as well as Terminal D. Parking rates at the airport are among the lowest anywhere in the country. Each terminal provides covered garage parking for up to $12.00 a day. Economy parking for $6 per day is provided at the corner of Greens and JFK, with free shuttle service to the terminals. Convenient hourly parking is available at Terminal C and the A/B garage.

The airport has five principal runways and is capable of serving any aircraft designed for commercial use today and in the foreseeable future.

In order to continue providing the growing number of passengers using IAH with an unsurpassed level of service and world-class airport facilities, the Houston Airport System has embarked on an ambitious construction program. At IAH construction included a new runway, taxiway improvements, a consolidated rental car facility, and an additional terminal (Terminal E).

Public Transportation

METRO provides the people of Greater Houston with essential transportation choices designed to keep everyone on the move. This impressive array of services features a modern fleet of 1,500 ADA accessible vehicles, the region's first light rail line, a world-class High Occupancy Vehicle (HOV) network, convenient vanpool and carpool programs as well as other support services to help cut through congestion.

METRORail will play a crucial role in our region's future success and is an important part of METRO Solutions, the agency's all-inclusive transit plan. This plan is already providing enhancements to our current transit system with faster, easier travel; more cross-town and weekend bus service; new and improved Park & Ride lots; Transit Centers and bus shelters; plus the region wide expansion of light rail.

With the arrival of METRORail, Houston is witnessing a new era of transportation. The initial 7.5-mile state-of-the-art light rail line provides convenient access to Downtown, Midtown, the Museum District, Hermann Park, the Texas Medical Center, and Reliant Park and just south of Loop 610. METRO's inaugural rail line will serve as a backbone for future extensions to additional areas.

Toll Roads

The Harris County Toll Road Authority, a division of the county's Public Infrastructure Department, operates under the authority of Harris County Commissioners' Court. Established in 1983 by a voter referendum, the Toll Road Authority now manages 61 miles of the Sam Houston Tollway, 21.6 miles of the Hardy Toll Road, and the first eight miles of the new all-electronic (EZ TAG only) Westpark Tollway. When completed in June of 2005, the Westpark Tollway will add an additional 13 miles to the system, and will extend from Loop 610 in the Galleria Area to FM 1464 at the Ft. Bend county line. In addition to the facilities mentioned above, an extension of the Hardy Toll Road into downtown Houston will soon be under construction; the expansion of the I-10 corridor calls for four toll lanes down the center of that project; the completion of the Sam Houston

Tollway's northeastern section is currently under design, and numerous other projects are also either under construction or being studied.

Although backed by the tax credit of Harris County, the Harris County Toll Road system is entirely user supported and has never had to draw funds from any tax base. System-wide, Harris County Toll Roads processes over five million transactions weekly, and have proven to be a vital link in the growth and development of our area, as well as provide a timesaving transportation alternative to Houston's heavily congested highway system.

Accessibility

North Houston Greenspoint offers easy access to downtown, the Galleria, Kingwood, The Woodlands and the airport. The Hardy Toll Road, Sam Houston Parkway and Interstate 45 make commuting to North Houston Greenspoint easy.

“The North Houston Greenspoint area, situated at the convergence of the fiber-optic conduits from Dallas, San Antonio, Austin and New Orleans, is on the cutting edge of technology and well-suited to play an expanding role in the region's growth. Technology

Houston businesses are known for their innovative ideas, ability to change quickly, and entrepreneurial spirit. The growth of the technology sector in recent years can be attributed to companies who incorporate these ideals, and who are focused on bringing their businesses into the information age. Because of this growth the North Houston Greenspoint area has become a foundation of information technology, broadband, E-commerce, telecommunication, computer, content, and emerging technology companies who have a worldwide reach.

With the Greenspoint Technology Center in its backyard and a major fiber optic network running along Interstate 45, Greenspoint is well poised to continue as a source for these firms. The area provides a tremendous advantage to Internet and telecommunication tenants seeking direct fiber connection or for owners of the fiber to place switches. North Houston Greenspoint is one of the primary fiber optic intersections in Houston.

The Greenspoint Technology Center, which provides an existing cluster of telecom providers, was the first telecommunications park in Houston dedicated to telecom users and is Houston's premier Internet/telecommunications switchboard. Located at the intersection of Interstate Highway 45 and Beltway 8, Greenspoint Technology Center is encircled by a fiber optic loop.

The Technology Center is situated atop a fiber optic system that runs from Houston, Dallas, Austin and San Antonio to other points within the continental USA. Numerous telecom/fiber carriers also serve the area, which provides the redundancy necessary to ensure uninterrupted transfer of data.

With the existing cluster of telecom providers, healthy business climate and sound real estate fundamentals, and its excellent freeway access and proximity to major transportation arteries and facilities including the airport, we believe that in a few short years, North Houston Greenspoint will have become the technology and telecommunications hub of Houston.

jewelry can all be found at Greenspoint Mall. The center hosts a great selection of merchandise at a great value, while providing a variety of special events for the Houston metropolitan area.

Old Town Spring

Old Town Spring is a turn-of-the-century community with lovely old buildings; over 180 unique shops, galleries and restaurants; and beautiful shade trees lining its small-town streets. It is 20 miles north of Houston and five miles south of The Woodlands. For the historic minded, the town boasts two museums – The Spring Historic Museum and the Civil War Museum – which is also home to the 11th Texas Calvary. Spring was a Houston and Great Northern railroad boomtown in its heyday as a switchyard stop on the Galveston-Houston-Palestine line. When the railroad moved its operation to Houston in 1923, the town began to fade. By 1926, most of the wooden buildings had been salvaged to use for firewood or barn building. Slowly, over the years, buildings from the same era have been relocated from farms, fields, etc. Old Town Spring is rich in history and the glory of days gone by. Spend the day in Old Town Spring and step back into the past. Shopping for original artwork to the latest fashion trends, tea rooms to world-famous hamburgers, all can be found in Old Town Spring.

Syble Missildine, CEO,
Northeast Medical Center Hospital

"We are fortunate to have exceptional healthcare services available literally at our doorstep. At Northeast Medical Center in Humble, for example, we have a full service birthing center and neonatal intensive care unit. Our Emergency Department is among the busiest in the region. Our Cancer Center is about to add a second linear accelerator. The availability of health care should be a major reason why we choose where we live and that's a good reason to choose Northeast Harris County!"

Medicine

From delivering babies to outpatient diagnostic procedures, the hospitals of Greenspoint are prepared to take care of your healthcare needs. Area facilities use state-of-the-art equipment and innovative procedures to care for the North Houston Greenspoint community. The hospitals and clinics use a full complement of services and maintain a close working relationship with the Texas Medical Center hospitals, to facilitate the care of those who need a higher level of service.

Northeast Medical Center Hospital

Northeast Medical Center Hospital, a 243-bed, non-profit acute care hospital located in Humble, Texas, is one of the area's premier health care providers offering full service care to residents in northeast and north central Harris County, and parts of Montgomery and Liberty counties.

Established as a Hospital Authority in 1977, the Northeast Hospital Authority Board of Trustees governs Northeast with an 11-member Board made up of members of the community and appointed by the Humble City Council.

More than three hundred physicians, podiatrists and dentists are members of the medical staff. The 26-acre campus, in the rapidly growing communities in the Humble-Atascocita-Kingwood-Spring area, features a wide scope of health care services including: Level II birthing center offering a complete range of prenatal and childbirth care and featuring the area's first neonatologist; Level II emergency department; state-of-the-art diagnostic equipment including MRI, cardiac catheterization, endoscopic and special procedures laboratories; hospice program; wellness center; outpatient surgical and mammography center; minor emergency centers conveniently located in Humble, Atascocita and Kingwood; the region's most extensive diagnostic, therapeutic, surgical and medical care services; sleep lab and wound care program.

Northeast's five-story, 160,000 sq. ft. diagnostic and patient care services tower features state-of-the-art inpatient and outpatient surgical services, a comprehensive women's center (LDR birthing center, antepartum testing facility, women's imaging and women's care unit) and a high acuity patient care area.

Triumph Hospital North Houston

Triumph Hospital North Houston is a three-year-old Acute Long-Term Care hospital located at the North Freeway and Little York and is operated by Triumph HealthCare, a privately held company based in Houston, Texas. Triumph is the largest provider of specialized intensive care services within the Houston area and will soon be the ninth largest hospital system in Houston. Triumph currently operates four other area hospitals, Triumph Hospital East Houston, Triumph Hospital Baytown, Triumph Hospital Northwest and Triumph Hospital Southwest. Expansion plans include 2005 openings of Triumph Hospital Tomball and Triumph Hospital Clearlake as well as a 2006 opening of Triumph Hospital Medical Center.

Triumph specializes in providing long-term intensive care services to medically complex patients for whom the short term acute care hospital is no longer the most appropriate or the most cost effective setting for continued care. Acute long-term hospitals fill an important role in the continuum of patient care and address the needs of a growing patient population.

Prominent among this population are frail elderly persons suffering from pre-existing medical conditions that complicate their course of treatment. Triumph offers specialized services for patients who are temporarily dependent on life supporting technology and medications, which greatly exceed the capabilities of nursing homes. Short-Term Acute Care hospitals frequently had to keep these patients without adequate reimbursement or discharge to a lower level of care with inadequate services to restore the patient to a level consistent with the patient's goals and abilities. As an Acute Long-Term Care Hospital, Triumph specializes in assisting these patients achieve their highest level of function prior to returning to their home or nursing home.

More Time for You

Thanks to Northeast's New Paperless System

Thanks to the computer . . . more time for you.

Something wonderful happened when Northeast Medical Center Hospital's technical gurus introduced a new computer system to our Women's Health programs — our nurses had more time to spend with their patients!

You see, instead of spending a goodly amount of their time 'handwriting' records outside the patient rooms, our Women's Health nurses are at the bedside doing their 'charting' on the computer. Our nurses can 'electronically' mark patient observations. They can complete record keeping right in the patient room. And they have easy access to past patient records in order to provide the kind of care that the patient's history requires. Plus, your nurse can monitor all patients from that single monitor.

The advantages: It's legible, more timely and because of the speed of putting in the documentation, it gives your nurse more time to spend at your bedside.

Soon, all Northeast nursing units will go 'on-line.'

So we can spend more time paying attention to you and less time handwriting your records.

A Community Of Opportunity

- Located just 10 miles north of downtown Houston, 12 miles from the Port of Houston, and five miles south of Bush Intercontinental Airport, Aldine is ideally situated to offer logistical advantages found nowhere else in the region.
- Retail, warehousing, light manufacturing, and airport-service industries enjoy exceptional access to these business centers via three newly expanded, major corridors — U.S. 59, the Hardy Toll Road, and Beltway 8.
- A local area freport tax exemption, which applies to goods, wares, merchandise, and parts stored in the area for less than 175 days, benefits companies that import parts and raw materials for the production of other products.
- Large tracts of undeveloped real estate along U.S. 59 and F.M. 525 offer cost-effective alternatives to suburban and urban business locations, while more established commercial corridors within the community provide high-density retail opportunities at below-market rates.
